Charlotteswille, Va., March N.—The boys all hated to see Harry Welchonce leave camp Monday. He was easily the most popular recruit among the recruits, always smilling and bubbling over with good humor. Griff may discover later on in the season that he has let out a mighty good ball player, but with Shanks, Milan and Moeller it was hard to see where Welchance could fit in.

The work of Clyde Milan this spring as been above the ordinary, both in billing and base-running. During the practice and exhibition games the Tennesses flyer has averaged easily two safe swars against a game and leads all the others in stolen ages.

Another epidemic of colds and sore throats has hit the Climbers—this time the regulars are affected. Bot Groom, Clyde Milan, and Eddie Foster are the inference, all of whom were allowed to do little or no work today. Chick Gandii peactice his morning wenched his right kines, but was out in the afternoon and played part of the game against Virginia. None of the allments are seleus, and Griff expects to poit in his regular team against Georgetown at National Fark on Thursday.

The Climbers are delighted with the idea of a change in scenery, and this trip back to Washingten temperature was the sole topic in camp tonight.

Georgetown should be easy picking for the Climbers unless the Hilltoppers have a stronger team than last year, and Griff expects to do a whole lot feet as the control of the camp tonight.
